FENG

SHUI

Tour of

Melbourne's Chinatown

Today's popularity of Feng Shui can be supplemented by a fascinating Feng Shui Tour of Melbourne's Chinatown, followed by an optional Chinese luncheon afterwards.

"During this two-hour walking tour, Jodi Brunner, qualified practitioner in the ancient art of placement, puts a new perspective on the ch'i (energy) of Chinatown. While walking a circuit around Little Bourke Street, Jodi explains energy flow and shows how local restaurateurs and tradespeople use Feng Shui symbols to invite prosperity."

Through interviews with Feng Shui masters and Chinatown traders, Jodi has compiled a vast storehouse of knowledge about how the techniques of the ancient art are used by local tradespeople. Find out which pillars are painted with pig's blood and why, what happened to a local business when a Feng Shui master's suggestions were not implemented and why a below-ground space in this popular precinct was up for rent for more than five years."

Kate Casey, City Search

"Thank you for your time and knowledge shared with the students from Image Group International. We enjoyed the tour of Chinatown and really do appreciate the learning that came from your knowledge of Feng Shui."

"I enjoyed your relaxed presentation style and talking feng shui, and seeing real cases, getting a feel for Chinatown."

"Thank you very much, very enjoyable."
